Background:

Poster presentation competitions serve as an effective platform for students and researchers to communicate their ideas, research findings, and creative concepts in a visual and concise manner. Unlike traditional oral presentations, posters encourage interactive discussions and allow participants to showcase their work through graphics, charts, and innovative designs.

The competition aims to develop participants' abilities in summarizing complex topics, enhancing their presentation and communication skills, and fostering creativity. It also provides an opportunity for peer learning, critical feedback, and recognition of innovative ideas. By encouraging participants to present their knowledge visually, such competitions cultivate confidence, critical thinking, and professional development.

The proposed results were:

- Participants will gain confidence in presenting their ideas and research in a concise and visually appealing manner.
- Students will develop improved communication, creativity, and critical thinking skills.
- The competition will encourage innovative approaches to problem-solving and knowledge sharing.
- Peer-to-peer interaction and discussions will promote collaborative learning.
- The best posters will be recognized through awards and certificates, motivating participants for future endeavours.
- The event will create a platform for showcasing talent and fostering a culture of academic and creative excellence.

Participants:

45 students were present from B. Sc. (CS) FY, SY, TY, B. Sc. (DS) FY & SY, B. Sc. (SE) FY & SY, B. Sc. (AI & ML) FY & M. Sc. (CS) FY & SY students for poster presentation competition.

Outcomes of this Competition:

The poster presentation on "Innovation In Action : Ideas That Drive Change 2025-2026" is the poster presentation is not a singular event but a collection of professional, academic, and personal benefits gained by the presenter and the audience.

Report on Innovation in Action : Ideas That Drive Change

The Department of Computer Science, in collaboration with the Institution Innovation Council (IIC), organized a Poster Presentation Competition on the theme "Innovation In Action: Ideas That Drive Change 2025-2026" on 8th September 2025, at the Computer Science Department.

The objective of this event was to provide students with a platform to visually present their innovative ideas, research, and projects. The competition aimed to enhance students' creativity, communication skills, critical thinking, and ability to summarize complex topics in a visually engaging format.

A total of 45 students from B.Sc. (CS) FY, SY, TY, B.Sc. (DS) FY & SY, B.Sc. (SE) FY & SY, B.Sc. (AI & ML) FY, and M.Sc. (CS) FY & SY participated actively in the competition. The event was conducted at the department level and saw enthusiastic involvement from both students and faculty.

The program was inaugurated by Dr. S. S. Bellale, Principal of the institution, who served as the Chief Guest. The event was successfully coordinated by Mr. G. B. Bangad, Faculty Members and Forum Incharge.

Participants presented their posters to a panel of faculty and peers, explaining their innovative ideas and receiving constructive feedback. The best posters were selected and awarded certificates as a token of appreciation and encouragement.

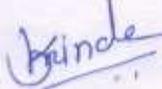

Key Outcomes of the Event:

1. Boosted students' confidence in presenting and explaining their ideas
2. Developed communication, creativity, and critical thinking skills
3. Encouraged innovative approaches and peer-to-peer learning
4. Created a platform for showcasing student talent and academic excellence

The event successfully fostered a spirit of innovation and inspired students to think beyond the classroom. Activities like this continue to support holistic development and promote a vibrant academic environment within the department.
