Background:

It was observed that before participating in the Aavishkar Competition, students must have proper understanding of the rules, regulations, and evaluation criteria. Hence, this event was organized to orient students about the guidelines, presentation format, and expectations of the Aavishkar Competition. The program aimed to prepare students to participate confidently and effectively at various levels of the competition.

The proposed results were:

As a result of this program, students gained clear understanding of the Aavishkar competition rules, regulations, and evaluation process. Participants developed confidence in project preparation and presentation. The program helped students avoid common mistakes and prepared them to participate effectively and successfully in the Aavishkar Competition.

Participants:

All UG, PG and PPG (121) Participants

Outcomes of this program:

The event enabled students to clearly understand the Aavishkar competition guidelines and expectations. It improved students' ability to prepare and present projects systematically. Participants gained confidence and readiness to represent their work effectively at college and higher-level Aavishkar competitions

Report on Avishkar-2026: Pathway to Innovation & Excellence

The Avishkar-2026: Pathway to Innovation & Excellence Program was successfully conducted on 22nd September 2022 at Dayanand Science College, Latur. The event was meticulously organized by the Avishkar Portfolio of the college with the aim of nurturing innovative thinking, research aptitude, and creativity among students.

The program was presided over by Dr. S. S. Bellale, Principal of the college. The distinguished Resource Persons invited for the session were: Dr. S. J. Wader, Director, Innovation & Incubation Center, SRTMUN, Nanded and Dr. K. A. Bogle, Professor, School of Physical Science, SRTMUN, Nanded

In his detailed presentation, Dr. S. J. Wader enlightened the participants about the objectives of Avishkar, the importance of innovation, and the role of research in higher education. He highlighted how students' innovative ideas and research outcomes can be effectively utilized for the betterment of society. His address was highly motivational and encouraged students to think creatively, identify local problems, and design innovative solutions.

Dr. K. A. Bogle provided a comprehensive overview of the Avishkar Research Competition. He explained in detail the registration process, the different levels of participation (University, Zonal, and State), and the six categories of research included in the competition. He also guided the students on how to prepare research posters, models, and presentations effectively, ensuring adherence to the rules and standards set by the competition. His guidance helped demystify the process for first-time participants and inspired them to engage more confidently in the upcoming Avishkar competition.

The program commenced with an introductory speech by Dr. R. B. Shinde, Avishkar Portfolio Coordinator, who welcomed the dignitaries and participants while highlighting the importance of Avishkar in fostering a research culture in the institution.

Following the resource sessions, an engaging interaction session was held, where students raised queries regarding research methodologies, innovation opportunities, and competition guidelines. The experts patiently clarified their doubts, making the session highly interactive and fruitful.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr. M. A. Karale, acknowledging the efforts of the organizing team, the valuable time and guidance of the resource persons, and the enthusiastic participation of the students.

Outcome of the Program

The event proved to be an inspiring and knowledge-enriching experience for all participants. It not only enhanced awareness about research and innovation but also motivated students to actively participate in the upcoming Avishkar-2026 Competition. The program successfully aligned with the vision of promoting a culture of research and excellence at Dayanand Science College.
