Flyer

The flyer is for a Pi Day Special Guidance Program. It features a central illustration of two children sitting on a blue circular platform, surrounded by mathematical symbols and tools like a compass, ruler, and hourglass. A chalkboard in the background shows the distributive property $a(b \times c) = a \times b \times c$, the equation $y = x^2$, and a geometric diagram. The text is arranged in a clear, hierarchical manner, starting with the organizing institution and moving to the event title, then the target audience, and finally the date, time, and venue. Key personnel are listed at the bottom.
